VALUABLE LAND FOR SALE,
AND AN OPENING FOR RICE PLANTERS.
The subscriber offers for sale his Mallory Lands, assituated at the junction of the Brunswick River with the Cape Fear. There are about 700 acres tide swamp, and judging from the productiveness of lands adjoining, are equal to any lands below the Northwest. It is well located, being at the right pitch both of tides and freshets.

There are 40 or 50 Acres which have been cleared, and with moderate work can be easily reclaimed.

Attached is a first rate mill seat, surpassed by few in the country for a plentifial supply of water; on which is already a dam sufficient, with the exception of a small break in it, which can be easily repaired. It is well located for a saw and grist mill, and thrashing machine. To a person who has got force, there is as great an opening to embark in rice planting as can be found in this section of country—for it is about the largest body of lands that can be found in one body. There are about 12 or 1800 acres of Pine Land attachin said lands. They are worth the attention of individuals who wish to embark in the Rice culture. Apply to

New Livery Stables.—Fire Proof.

Having completed my new Livery Stables, I am now ready to receive Horses at livery, by the day, week, or month.

My Stables are situated on the corner of Princess and Third Streets, directly opposite the Court-House, and very convenient to the business part of the town. They are built of brick, and covered with tin, which makes them entirely FIRE-PROOF. They are large, commodious, and well constructed; and in every respect as comfortable and convenient as any Stables in the United States

I also have (for the accommodation of Drovers,) a large and comfortable Lot, together with a basement under the Stables sufficient to hold one hundred horses, and shelter them well and comfortably.

Lines written on a Visit to La Grancie Chartrense Earth's mountains unto God are consecrate-The footstool of the everlasting throne: There, in his thunders robed, in awful state The Omnipotent comes down.

In regard to the Whig caucus, we take the state ment of members of that caucus who were determined that it should be honestly reported. There is an old proverb setting forth the advantages which honest men receive when rogues fall out, which no doubt the Observer remembers.

If the Observer can show that the Fugitive Slave Law, instead of being an independent bill introduced by one of the Democratic Senators from Virginia, was a passenger in the Omnibus, we will acknowlwise. important which has occurred in the Senate for many years, perhaps the most, so far as our foreign poliev is concerned. The doctrine is beginning to be felt and recognised that our duty under the laws of the country to any aggressive propagandism, will at nations require our protest against and resistance to nected rises to the dignity of treason or a levying of palpable violations of these laws.

The Senate has been occupied with Foote's resolution, declaring the compromise a final adjustment of the slavery question. Considerable discussion occurred between Mr FOOTE, and the Senators from South Carolina. Mr. RHETT, declared himself in favor of disunion and secession under existing circumstances He had not concluded when the Senate adjourned.

Notice was given of bills granting lands for the constructions of Railroads in Western States. A bill for the establishment of a branch Mint in California, was passed to a third reading.

In the House, the joint resolution from the Senate tendering a welcome to Kossuth, was passed by a vote of 181 to 15. On Tuesday, after some debate, the Senate adopted a resolution appointing a committee of three to wait on Kossuth and invite him to the Senate.

Mr. Rhett finished his speech upon Mr. Foote's reolution. The bill establishing a branch mint in California passed the Senate.

In the House, nothing of importance transpired.

We must confess that altogether too much space has been devoted in the public papers to the movements of Kossuth. We have been excessively moderate, but find that from the force of habit the pen naturally traces the characters of the name without consulting us upon the subject. The American people are certainly different from any other. Having no restraint upon the expression of their feelings, they appear more excitable than Europeans; yet, being virtually their own rulers, and feeling the direct responsibility of governmental action resting upon them, they are perhaps the most prudent and common sense people in the world when the time for action arrives. So we presume Kossuth will find .-If once in war, all Europe could not back them out, but not being in, they will be very apt to count the cost before involving themselves. Kossuth has to make many speeches that we cannot keep the the compromise measures to the constituted authorities and the people. If a resolution must pass, let it run of them, and shall not attempt it. When any be done at once or abandoned. There seems to be a thing is done we will note it, but not simply what is

The Judge then reviews the Law of 1850 as com pared with that of 1793, and affirms that the law of ast year provides more safe-guard against abuse than that of 1793, but that the real ground of opposition to it is that in some cases it can be executed, and the constitutional rights of the master in some measure preserved.

The law and evidence in the case before the court is then examined, and the principles of construction applied to it as follows:

In the application of these principles of construc ion to the case before us, the jury will observe, that the "levying of war" against the United States is not necessarily to be judged of alone by the number or array of troops. But there must be a conspiracy to assist by force, and an actual resistance by force to effect something of a public nature, to overthrow the government, or to nullify some law of the Unit-

A band of smugglers may be said to set the laws at defiance and to have conspired together for that purpose, and to resist, by armed force, the execution the revenue laws; they may have battles with slain on both sides, and yet they will not be guilty of treason, because it is not an insurrection of a public nature, but merely for private lucre or advantage.

A whole neighborhood of debtors may conspire together to resist the Sheriff and his officers in executing process on their property—they may perpetrate their resistance by force of arms; may kill the officer and his assistants-and yet they will be liable only as felons, and not as traitors. Their insurrecn is of a private, not of a public nature, their obgrievance.

A number of fugitive slaves may infest a neighborhood and may be encouraged by the neighbors in combining to resist the capture of any of their number; they may resist with force and arms their master or the public officer, who may come to arrest and connected with no public purpose.

It is true that constructively they may be said to resist the execution of the fugitive slave laws, but in no other sense than the smugglers resist the revenue about a quarter of an hour. The waters of the rivlaws, and the anti-renters the execution laws. Their surrection, their violence, however great their numbers may be, so long as it is merely to attain some town itself. Mr. Sumner's Speech.

The Speech of Mr. Sumner, yesterday, in the Senate of the United States, was the most comprehen-sive, chaste and eloquent yet delivered in the Kos-suth debate. It should have decided the question immediately. But, unfortunately, the base misrepresentations of Austria have found an echo eve here, in the land of freedom, and men are found to argue in newspapers, and even repeat on the floor of the Senate the atrocious calumny that Kossuth is the foe of liberty. We have heard of black being proved white; and this certainly is an attempt at it Bishop Berkley, when he asserted that men did not live at all. but only seemed to; and that trees, rinal stars themselves were but illusions, was not more absurd than the Courier and Senator Clemens, in their attempt to show that Austria was fighting for freedom when she oppressed the Hungarians. see, with regret, the sophistical, narrow-minded. cowardly course of a portion of the Senate. DAILY MAIL TO NORFOLK .- We regret to learn from the Norfolk papers, that the Postmaster General has declined to enter into a contract for a daily mail between that city and Baltimore. The boats, therefore, will, in a few days, commence running tri-weekly. Statistics of Hungary.

Hungary has a territory of 126,000 square miles, and population of 14,000,000. It is divided as fol-

1. Hungary proper, including civil Sclavonia, Croatia, and the Heyduke districts. 2. Transylvania. 3. The Military Frontier. All these countries are, legally, parts of the Kingdom of Hungary, and are subject to the King of Hungary, who, merely by chance happens to be Emperor of Austria. Death of the Hon. Joel R. Poinsett. It is with deep and sincere regret that we announce the death of this eminent citizen and retired statesman, in the 73d year of his age. A private letter, received in this city, states that he died at Stateburg, on the 12th inst. Mr. Poinsett was born in this city, on the 2d March, 1779. He received a liberal, although not a collegiate education, and in early life improved his mind by an extensive course of travel in Europe, Asia and South America. In maturer years, he bor an important and conspicuous part in the political affairs of both our State and nation. He represented Charleston, with great ability, both in the State Legislature and in Congress. At the close of his congressional career, he served as U. S. Minister to Mexico, and in that capacity, not only ably maintained the interests of the republic, but on a memorable occasion so boldly upheld our national flag, in the Mexican capital, that the art of painting has perpetuated the incident. He was the acknowledged leader of the Union party in the great nullification struggle in our State, and wielded his influence with wisdom, and in a conservative spirit. During Mr. Van Buren's Presidency, he was called to preside over the war department, and so administered its affairs as to command general approbation; and, while Secratary of War, took a leading part in founding the National Institute, at Washington -The residue of his useful life was passed in elegant retirement, during which, however, his pen continued to the last to yield its contributions to the literature and the politics of his country, showing the unabated vigor of his intellect, and his patriotic interest in the welfare of his country. From the sink of Humboldt river across the desert to Carson river my heart was sickened at seeing the great destruction of property, viz: wagons, carria ges and buggies, dead horses, mules, and cattle, whose carcasses lie thick all over the ground, in a state of preservation, the skins and a good deal of the flesh being dred to the bones-the water, marshes, and air being so strongly impregnated with alkali that it has tendency to keep off the devouring insects and hirds of nrey. But the worst is not half told yet: to see every two or three hundred yards a grave, where a father. mother, brother, or sister has been buried; but ere the train is out of sight the corpse is disinterred by the prowling wolf or the savage Indian-the bones to bleach upon the great American desert. Eleanor Ann Porden was born in 1795. She early manifested great talents and a strong memory, and acquired a considerable knowledge of Greek and other languages. Her first poem, The Veils, was written when she was seventeen. Her next was the Arctic Expedition, which led to her marriage with Capt. Franklin. Her principal work is the epic of Cœur de Lion, which appeared in 1825. Her poems display much elegance, spirit and richness of imagination. The foregoing incidents in her life, we find in a biographical dictionary. REVIEW OF THE WILMINGTON MARKET, FOR THE WEEK ENDING DECEMBER 18, 1851.

BACON-There has been no receipts worthy of notice from the country, and our quotations for North Carolina cured must be considered as merely nominal, and sales at the prices quoted in the small way, but as being no indication of what the article would bring. The stock of Western cured is fully fair, and sides of a superior article selling by the single hhd. from store, at $10 50 per 100 lbs.; shoulders at 7 to FLOUR-We hear of no wholesale transactions, operations having been confined to sales in small lots, to suit, ranging within our figures, as to quantity and quality. HAY-We hear of no sales of hay this week.

LARD-No transactions of moment to note in this article. LIME-None received this week. LUMBER-We note the sale of one raft river lumber, wide boards, at $8 per M. Liquors-Quotations are without change. Molasses.-None received-sales from store at prices ranging within quotations as in quality.

NAVAL STORES.—Turpentine.—The market has experienced an advance of 5 cents per bbl. since our report of this day week. On Friday, prices were firm at the previous day's sales. On Saturday, the market appeared to fluctuate, with sales. On Saturday, the market appeared to fluctuate, with an upward tendency. On Monday, the market opened with a better feeling, and sales were effected to upwards of 2,100 bbls., at $2 10 and 2 15 for soft, and $1 10 a 1 15 for hard. On Tuesday, the market opened still more firm, and the sales of the day reached about 3,645 bbls., at $2 15 for soft and 1 15 for hard. Yesterday, about 800 bbls. clranged hands and 1 15 for hard. Yesterday, about 800 bbls. clranged hands at Tuesday's prices; and to-day the sales have reached about 825 bbls. at the same price, and market closing firm. The week's sales foot up about 10,273 bbls., at the above rates, at which we quote closing prices for the last two days' sales. Spirits Turpentine-The sales during the week foot up about 1125 bbls. at 29 ets., and 20 do., in the first part of the week, at 29½ cents. The market appears firm at 29 cents, and purchasers manifest a disposition to operate at this price. Some holders, however, prefer shipping in preference to acceding to terms. In rosin, the sales have been confined to only a few transactions. We note sales of 400 barrels at 85 cents and 1600 at 90 cents per bbl., at which rates the market closes, with but little animation. Tar.—The receipts have the market are supported by the market appears to be force at $1.70 cents. The opportunities presented for a sound and accomplished Education, are equal to those of any similar Lastitution in the Stase. been light, and the market appears to be firm at $1.70 per bbl. We would however remark that a few scattering lots have been sold at a fraction of about 5 cents per bbl. less.

The Elephant has Come.

Some time since we noticed the fact that Messrs Ellis & Mitchell were about creeting a horse mill in the rear of their Grain Store. The machine is now in operation, and may be interesting to those who have never seen anything of the kind; the more so on account of the corporal presence and personal appearance of an elephant-shaped beast, which they say is a horse. United States and Great Britain. A telegraphic despatch from Washington, under date of the 5th inst., to the Philadelphia American, contains the following important information: The steamship Atlantic, which sails to morrow at noon, will be detained, by arrangement with the State Department, to receive an important despatch Webster has written a letter to Mr. Lawrence, reuiring him to ascertain immediately from Lord Palmerston whether the outrage on the Prometheus

The despatch explicitly states that the outrage is regarded as being a direct violation of the first article of the Clayton and Bulwer treaty of April, 1850; and it is claimed that Great Britain shall take immediate steps to settle the difficulties, by the return other person armed with sufficient authority. The tone of the official paper is high, just and American, and it corresponds with and is worthy of the character of Mr. Webster. Private letters have also been sent to Mr. Lawrence, instructing him, in the most urgent terms, to proceed firmly and promptly.
Within half an hour after intelligence of the out-

Vebster addressed a letter to the President, recommending the employment of a competent naval armament to protect our commerce and rights. Vessels of war have, accordingly, been ordered to Chagres, San Juan and San Juan del Sud.

The delays in the execution of the Clayton and Bulwer treaty have resulted from the domestic diffiame here charged to make a general adjustment, with, as was supposed, full powers, now finds him-self without any sufficient authority to negotiate on behalf of Nicaragua or Central America. Hence the California Cows and Potatoes. One of the best of the letter-writers from Califor nia, is Winchester, the correspondent of the N. Y. Tribune. From his last we gather a couple of interesting items for our farmers :-"A few days ago I sat down to dine with ten others, mostly adults. A large dish of potatoes graced the table, cut in pieces before boiling. Our landlady informed us that there were two potatoes help producing them. Very little attention is paid to tillage, and no manure is employed. Ine Havana correspondent of the Crescent states that our Journal has been honored with interdiction by the Captain-General of Cuba. We have received no confirmation ourselves of such a fact, but do not consider it at all improbable. We should regret to part with our many friends and readers in Cuba, but we are conour many friends and readers in Cuba, but we are consoled by the hope that the time is not remote, when they may not only read the Delta in peace and security, but also be able to carry into practical effect some of the doctrines and ideas which it promulgates and advocates. We regard all these manifestations of despotism as calculated to precipitate the downfall of a Government which is a libel on the age, and a standing reproach to a great and free people, who permit such atrocities to be perpetrated almost within sight of their shores.

Wines and Liquors of all kinds;
With a large and extensive assortment of minor articles too numerous to notice in the limits of an advertisement, but necessary on the plantation, farm, and in the household.
It is the aim of the advertisers to keep on hand every article suitable to the wants of country residents, which they offer for sale at as low prices as equity in business will allow. B. & R. C. H. would also respectfully call the attention of the public in general to their facilities in WAGON BUILD-ING and SMITH WORK. Having engaged a first rate Blacksmith and Wheelwright, they are prepared to execute any orders with which they may be entrusted, either for Wagons, Tools of any kind, or other Job-work; and they trust, with unremitting attention to business, to give gene-
